YOUR REAL-TIME LINK TO AUTHORITATIVE CONSUMER DATA

Many segments of industry are facing unprecedented levels of risk. Identity theft has serious consequences, not only in monetary damages, but in compromised personal records. Experts agree there is no single solution that will eliminate identity theft, but they emphasize the industry needs to look at broad issues like enrollment and authentication by leveraging some of the best practices the financial sector has put in place. Telified has proven invaluable to e-commerce, health care and financial service partners, helping them reduce the impact of fraud and theft, but even more importantly, improving the experience for good customers by streamlining their interactions.
